

Dr. Graham Bryce Joins GVCSS Board of Directors
October 2007

GVCSS is pleased to announce the recent election of Dr. Graham Bryce to the GVCSS Board of Directors. Dr. Bryce's distinguished medical background includes a specialty in Otolaryngology. Currently with the Department of Surgery at UBC, where he has worked since 1991, Dr. Bryce has also provided his expertise over the years to numerous medical facilities throughout the Lower Mainland. A few of his other accomplishments include research, teaching, and author of numerous medical publications, primarily related to his specialty in Otolaryngology. Dr. Bryce also has a long-standing association with community associations including the BC Family Hearing Resource Society and the BC Early Hearing program (newborn hearing screening).

We are extremely happy to welcome Dr. Bryce to our organization. His expertise and history of community involvement are sure to be great assets to GVCSS.
